By WILLIAM L. RYAN

With Moscow constantly applying the goad, Czechoslovakia's Communist command appears edging more and more toward the time when it must tell its people the promises of reforms and freedoms are now only fiction.

Moscow wants "normalization." It means that Czechoslovakia has no choice but to create the impression that it accepts Soviet commands and is obedient to them. This can bring anything from a complete shakeup of the present leadership to a determined crackdown on Czechoslovaks who still manifest angry resentment at the Soviet intervention.

An indication that the breath on the Czechoslovak leaders' necks has become uncomfortably warm comes from Gustav Husak, first secretary of the party in Slovakia, whose voice in Prague is becoming more and more authoritative. His statements suggest that "normalization" will be imposed fairly soon.

Husak on Nov. 13 made a speech—unpublished in the West—to the "people's militia" in Bratislava. The armed militia is an outgrowth of the action committees of 1948 which played a big role in seizing Czechoslovakia for the Communists. It has long been regarded

Knece Fund Now $2,054

A total of $643 was added to the Stephen Knece Fund today from contributions received in the mail at The Herald. The fund now totals $2,054.

Mrs. Helen Knece, Steve's mother, said that preparations were made yesterday at University Hospital for more surgery on Steve due to complications. However the surgery was not necessary and therefore delayed.

The mother, in reporting on her son's condition, said that surgeons were preparing to operate to remove Steve's kidneys. His own kidneys were not removed when the transplant was performed on Nov. 5, she noted.

However, she related, a new drug was being used to reduce his blood pressure. Doctors are hopeful the drug can be used for a couple of weeks before the inevitable surgery of removing the old kidneys.

She also noted the transplanted kidney was still functioning although rejection drugs were still being administered and would have to be continued for at least one year. Cost of the drugs alone will amount to about $150 per month, she was told.

Heading the list of donations today was a $200 check from Circleville Sertoma Club; $100 from the Logan Elm Booster Club; $25 from Pickaway County Practical Nurses Assn.; $25 from Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club; and $32.10 was collected from persons attending the Logan Elm card party.

Kosygin Attacks Nixon Stand

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told two U.S. senators today that the United States and the Soviet Union would find it hard to achieve a relaxation of international tensions if either sought to negotiate from a position of strength, the senators reported.

U.S. President-elect Richard M. Nixon advocated a position of strength for the United States during the election campaign.

Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn. and Claiborne Pell, D-R.I. told a news conference that in an hour and 40 minute meeting with Kosygin the premier cautioned against either of the great powers seeking to become decisively stronger than the other.

Unity Is Keynote Of Nixon's Plans For Next 4 Years

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon, relaxing today in island solitude, intends to make unity in a divided nation a keynote theme of his Republican administration. But the plans for achieving this aim are more methodical than dramatic.

The most important single thread in this effort is summed up in one word: communication. Nixon stressed it constantly in the more philosophical speeches of his campaign. Now he is considering how best to attain it.

Nixon was resting today on a small, privately owned island in the Bahamas. He sunned himself and read in privacy on Mermaid Beach in the Grand Cay group of the Bahama Islands, 140 miles northeast of Key Biscayne.

Nixon flew there Monday by Coast Guard helicopter, with no advance announcement, accompanied only by his friend, C. G. Rebozo, and his Secret Service guards. He spent the night on the island, owned by Robert Abplanalp, a Bronxville, N.Y., businessman.

When he returns to work on the transition of government, Nixon is expected to have more meetings in a unity-seeking pattern he already has set, with leaders from various segments of American society.

He held such sessions in New York Friday, meeting with a businessman, Frederick Keppel, then a union president, George Meany, then a Negro leader, Whitney Young of the national Urban League.

His inaugural address on Jan. 20 is expected to stress the unity quest. The first broad outlines

Court Lifts Ban Against Speeches

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court lifted today a ban on speeches or other public demonstrations by white supremacists on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

The unanimous decision stressed that individuals or groups cannot be barred in advance from speaking by police alone. Rather, said Justice Abe Fortas for the court, they must have a chance to give their side before a judge.

"There is a danger in relying exclusively on the version of events and dangers presented by prosecuting officials, because of their special interest," the ruling said.

The ban was imposed in August 1966 on leaders of the National States Rights Party in Somerset County. It followed a rally near the courthouse steps in the town of Princess Anne the evening of Aug. 6 in which the white supremacists spoke against Negroes and Jews and told their listeners to return the next night to "raise a little bit of hell for the white race."

Town and county officials obtained a restraining order from the county Circuit Court preventing the white power advocates from holding, in the following ten days, rallies or meetings in the county "which will tend to disturb and endanger the citizens."

After trial a 10-month injunction was imposed. The Maryland Court of Appeals reversed the 10-month order but affirmed the 10-day ban.

5 Are Named As Recipients Of Honor Medal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest identified as the first chaplain to win the Medal of Honor in Vietnam is among the five latest recipients of the decoration.

Capt. Angelo J. Liteky, who receives the nation's top military decoration today from President Johnson, was credited with carrying more than 20 wounded soldiers to an evacuation spot Dec. 6 when the company he was with came under heavy fire near Phuoc Lac.

Liteky, 37, of Jacksonville, Fla., received neck and foot wounds.

He is only the second chaplain to win the medal.

The four other Army men receiving the medal were Spec. 4 Gary G. Wetzel, 21, of Oak Creek, Wis.; Spec. 5 Dwight H. Johnson, 21, of Detroit, Mich.; Sgt. Sammy L. Davis, 22, of Martinsville, Ind., and Capt. James A. Taylor, 30, an Arcata, Calif., native stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

The awards brought to 61 the number of medals of Honor presented during the Vietnam war.

Wetzel, a helicopter gunner, lost an arm when rockets exploded near him Jan. 8. But he wiped out an enemy automatic weapons emplacement and dragged his commander to safety.

Johnson, a tank crewman, fought with a pistol, submachine guns and a rifle butt to help a platoon under attack by a battalion-sized enemy force near Dak To Jan. 15.

Davis' artillery battery was hit by a mortar attack and ground assault near Cai Lay Nov. 18, 1967. Despite a direct hit on his position and severe wounds, Davis kept the howitzer going, stopping only to paddle a raft across a river to rescue three wounded comrades.

Taylor ignored painful wounds to aid members of his armored cavalry squadron while under intense fire west of Que Son Nov. 9, 1967.

The Ocean Hill trustee, Herbert F. Johnson, associate state education commissioner, said he was putting off their return until Wednesday to allow time to work out class assignments.

There was a sense of relief Monday after members of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers approved settlement terms. Most city, state and union officials were gratified, parents were pleased and even the pupils were happy.

An 8-year-old boy attending a Greenwich Village elementary school threw his arms around his teacher and gave her a kiss.

It was the third time since the strike began Sept. 9 that the predominantly white, 55,000-member UFT had gone back to the classroom. Two earlier settlements broke down and the walkout was renewed.

Upon word of the UFT ratification, a state trustee officially took over operation of the controversial Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimentally decentralized school district in Brooklyn.

It was the summary dismissal of 79 white teachers from the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill district that led to the strike. A state watchdog committee has now been set up to oversee their return.

New York School Children Return To Classes Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's 1.1 million public school children return to their studies today after a prolonged and bitter teachers' strike that cost most youngsters seven weeks of classes.

There was a sense of relief Monday after members of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers approved settlement terms. Most city, state and union officials were gratified, parents were pleased and even the pupils were happy.

Indicate Ky Possible Chief Of Delegation

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government appeared today to be moving slowly toward a decision to send a delegation to the Paris peace talks.

Some South Vietnamese sources close to the government indicated that the principle of sending a delegation had been decided. There was a "50-50 chance" it would be led by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, the sources said.

Lending support to suggestions there has been a softening in Saigon's boycott of the Paris talks was a statement by Premier Tran Van Huong in the resort city of Vung Tau Monday.

Huong said "presently the Republic of Vietnam does not yet plan to send any delegation to attend peace talks in Paris."

This was clearly milder than the previous flat refusal to join the talks unless the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front attended only as part of North Vietnam's delegation and not as a separate entity.

AWOL Soldier Apprehended

Injured Policeman Listed 'Improved' At Grant Hospital

Circleville Policeman Leonard Sines, injured Sunday when he attempted to place an AWOL serviceman under arrest, is in "much improved" condition today in Grant Hospital, Columbus.

The man who allegedly injured the patrolman, Ernest E. Evans, 21, of 452 Watt St., is in custody of local authorities.

Harry J. Morgan, special agent in charge, FBI, Cincinnati, stated Monday Evans, was arrested by FBI agents at South Dorset St., Troy, where he was employed by a nursery.

The FBI said assistance was requested from the Army to help locate Evans who was dropped from the rolls as a deserter from Ft. George Meade, Maryland, Sept. 23.

ON Sunday, Circleville Policemen Larry Pontious and Sines located and attempted to apprehend Evans. Sines was allegedly assaulted by Evans who escaped.

In addition to AWOL charges, Evans faces local charges. Evans was held in Clark County jail until he was returned to Pickaway County jail Monday night. He is now held pending determination of the charges of assault on a police officer.

Patrolman Sines was admitted to Grant Hospital, Columbus, where he was placed in the intensive care ward as a result of injuries he sustained when struck in the chest area by Evans.

Hospital authorities report he is much better and is expected to be transferred to Berger Hospital. He was first listed in "poor" condition by hospital authorities. He was permitted no visitors except his wife on Monday.

Evans pleaded innocent in Municipal Court today to resisting arrest. He was found guilty by Judge Sterling Lamb, sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and fined $500.

Judge Lamb said today the charge of assaulting a police officer will be heard when Sines is well enough to testify in the hearing.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Contests may be developing for speaker pro-tem and majority leader jobs in the next Ohio House of Representatives.

Rep. Charles F. Kurfess, Republican of Perrysburg, going into his seventh term in the House, apparently will have no opposition for his second term as speaker.

Rep. John C. McDonald, Democrat of Newark, may have some opposition for the minority leader's job. Rep. A. G. Lancelotti of Bellaire, minority leader a few years back, is being mentioned for the job. He hasn't formally announced whether he will seek it.

Rep. Barry Levey, Republican of Middletown, said he will disclose today whether he will seek the speaker pro-tem post. Others being mentioned for the job include Reps. Keith McNamara of Columbus, Walter White of Lima, Howard Knight of Risingsun and Gordon M. Scherer of Cincinnati.

Republican legislators will caucus here next Monday to decide who they will support for speaker, speaker pro-tem, majority leader and whip.

Democrats will caucus Dec. 2 and select the legislator they will support for minority leader and assistant minority leader.

Reps. James Flannery, James Celebrezze and Anthony Russo, all of Cleveland, are interested in the assistant's job.

The minority leader will name the Democratic whip for the coming session.

Holdup Foiled In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A man and a woman were being held by police today in connection with an apparent attempt to rob the Winter's National Bank branch on the city's West Side.

Police did not immediately identify the suspects.

The woman was captured in the bank building shortly after the alarm was sounded. Police said a patrolman fired a shot at the man as he ran from the bank.

Sgt. Eugene Nelson, who captured the man, said as he entered the attic in an adjoining building the man held him at gun point before he dropped his gun and surrendered.

The pair apparently entered the bank after breaking a rear window about 8:10 a.m. before most employees were on duty, police said.

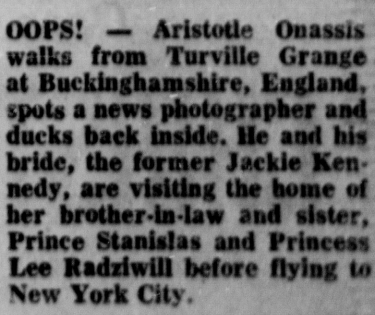

Little Girl Dies After Sharing Chimp's Liver

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Doctors say an emergency operation to save the life of a desperately ill 3-year-old girl by having her share the liver of a chimpanzee has failed. The child died Monday night in the Henrietta Eggleston Hospital for Children at Emory University.

Her name was withheld at the request of her parents.

The child was stricken with hepatitis, a viral liver disease. Last Thursday, doctors connected her circulatory system to that of a chimpanzee in a five-hour operation, so that the chimp's liver could function for the girl while her own fought the disease.

Although temporary improvement was achieved by the operation, "it is reported with sadness that the primary objective—of restoring this apparently hopelessly ill child to health—was not," one doctor said.

Upon word of the UFT ratification, a state trustee officially took over operation of the controversial Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimentally decentralized school district in Brooklyn.

It was the summary dismissal of 79 white teachers from the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill district that led to the strike. A state watchdog committee has now been set up to oversee their return.

The Ocean Hill trustee, Herbert F. Johnson, associate state education commissioner, said he was putting off their return until Wednesday to allow time to work out class assignments.

Missing Child Found In School

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police reported today that Shirley Fuller, 9, missing since Monday afternoon, has been found.

Police said the child was found in St. George's school, which she had attended last year. She was going to a different school this year.

The State Highway Department said primary and secondary highways had some snow accumulation in the extreme northeast, with roads in the balance of the state wet with a few dry areas in the south and east central portions.

The Weather Bureau said the snow flurries and showers were moving toward the east southeast at 25 m.p.h.

Indicate Ky Possible Chief Of Delegation

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government appeared today to be moving slowly toward a decision to send a delegation to the Paris peace talks.

Some South Vietnamese sources close to the government indicated that the principle of sending a delegation had been decided. There was a "50-50 chance" it would be led by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, the sources said.

Lending support to suggestions there has been a softening in Saigon's boycott of the Paris talks was a statement by Premier Tran Van Huong in the resort city of Vung Tau Monday.

Huong said "presently the Republic of Vietnam does not yet plan to send any delegation to attend peace talks in Paris," the official Vietnam Press said. This was clearly milder than the previous flat refusal to join the talks unless the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front attended only as part of North Vietnam's delegation and not as a separate entity.

South Vietnamese and American officials continued in contact Tuesday in an effort to find an acceptable compromise formula.

Some officials said they expect a Saigon delegation to go to Paris after a firm-sounding government statement reiterating nonrecognition of the NLF and declaring that any remarks it makes at the Paris talks would be addressed only to Hanoi's bargaining team.

AWOL Soldier Apprehended

Injured Policeman Listed 'Improved' At Grant Hospital

Circleville Policeman Leonard Sines, injured Sunday when he attempted to place an AWOL serviceman under arrest, is in "much improved" condition today in Grant Hospital, Columbus.

The man who allegedly injured the patrolman, Ernest E. Evans, 21, of 452 Watt St., is in custody of local authorities.

Harry J. Morgan, special agent in charge, FBI, Cincinnati, stated Monday Evans, was arrested by FBI agents at South Dorsett St., Troy, where he was employed by a nursery.

The FBI said assistance was requested from the Army to help locate Evans who was dropped from the rolls as a deserter from Ft. George Meade, Maryland, Sept. 23.

ON Sunday, Circleville Policemen Larry Pontious and Sines located and attempted to apprehend Evans. Sines was allegedly assaulted by Evans who escaped.

In addition to AWOL charges, Evans faces local charges.

Evans was held in Clark County jail until he was returned to Pickaway County jail Monday night. He is now held pending determination of the charges of assault on a police officer.

Patrolman Sines was admitted to Grant Hospital, Columbus, where he was placed in the intensive care ward as a result of injuries he sustained when struck in the chest area by Evans.

Hospital authorities report he is much better and is expected

Holdup Foiled In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A man and a woman were being held by police today in connection with an apparent attempt to rob the Winter's National Bank branch on the city's West Side.

Police did not immediately identify the suspects.

The woman was captured in the bank building shortly after the alarm was sounded. Police said a patrolman fired a shot at the man as he ran from the bank.

Sgt. Eugene Nelson, who captured the man, said as he entered the attic in an adjoining building the man held him at gun point before he dropped his gun and surrendered.

The pair apparently entered the bank after breaking a rear window about 8:10 a.m. before most employees were on duty, police said.

Little Girl Dies After Sharing Chimp's Liver

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Doctors say an emergency operation to save the life of a desperately ill 3-year-old girl by having her share the liver of a chimpanzee has failed. The child died Monday night in the Henrietta Eggleston Hospital for Children at Emory University.

Her name was withheld at the request of her parents.

The child was stricken with hepatitis, a viral liver disease. Last Thursday, doctors connected her circulatory system to that of a chimpanzee in a five-hour operation, so that the chimp's liver could function for the girl while her own fought the disease.

Although temporary improvement was achieved by the operation, "it is reported with sadness that the primary objective—of restoring this apparently hopelessly ill child to health—was not," one doctor said.

to be transferred to Berger Hospital. He was first listed in "poor" condition by hospital authorities. He was permitted no visitors except his wife on Monday.

Evans pleaded innocent in Municipal Court today to resisting arrest. He was found guilty by Judge Sterling Lamb, sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and fined $500.

Judge Lamb said today the charge of assaulting a police officer will be heard when Sines is well enough to testify in the hearing.

State Solons Vie For Posts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Contests may be developing for speaker pro-tem and majority leader jobs in the next Ohio House of Representatives.

Rep. Charles F. Kurfess, Republican of Perysburg, going into his seventh term in the House, apparently will have no opposition for his second term as speaker.

Rep. John C. McDonald, Democrat of Newark, may have some opposition for the minority leader's job. Rep. A. G. Lancelotti of Bellaire, minority leader a few years back, is being mentioned for the job. He hasn't formally announced whether he will seek it.

Rep. Barry Levey, Republican of Middletown, said he will disclose today whether he will seek the speaker pro-tem post. Others being mentioned for the job include Reps. Keith McNamara of Columbus, Walter White of Lima, Howard Knight of Risingsun and Gordon M. Scherer of Cincinnati.

Republican legislators will caucus here next Monday to decide who they will support for speaker, speaker pro-tem, majority leader and whip.

Democrats will caucus Dec. 2 and select the legislator they will support for minority leader and assistant minority leader.

Reps. James Flannery, James Celebrezze and Anthony Russo, all of Cleveland, are interested in the assistant's job.

The minority leader will name the Democratic whip for the coming session.

Congress To Move Slowly Until Nixon Takes Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress, convening Jan. 3, is expected to get off to a slow start while waiting for Richard M. Nixon to take office and submit his legislative program.

One exception could be an attempt to obtain Senate ratification of a treaty designed to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

Democratic leaders also may try to win Senate confirmation of some recent appointments made by President Johnson after the 90th Congress adjourned in October.

At the start of a new Congress, especially when there is a change at the White House, the legislative processes move more slowly. Pending legislation does not carry over and members generally mark time until the new president submits specific proposals although they could introduce bills if they wanted to.

The nuclear nonproliferation treaty, submitted by President Johnson last summer, is in a different category and needs only the consent of the Senate.

Nixon has voiced concern over some of its provisions and has given no clear indication of how he feels about the timing of Senate action.

Just how quickly Nixon will be ready to submit specific proposals after his Jan. 20 inauguration is uncertain, but House and Senate committees will have to conduct hearings on them before they are brought up for floor action.

Since the Democrats will continue to have majorities in both branches—53-42 in the Senate, 243-192 in the House—organization of Congress will be less of a task than if there had been a change in party control.

There is a potential scrap, however, among Senate Republicans over leadership posts and there are rumblings in the House about attempting to unseat Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts.

Plight Of The Aged

Everyone is familiar with that generation gap usually referred to in which the generations supposedly are so far apart in viewpoint that they do not recognize one another as inhabitants of the same planet. But there is another generation gap — a big one — which may be considerably more important.

That is the offhand manner in which the United States treats its older inhabitants. Some observers have tried to cushion the blow by referring to this group as "senior citizens," but whatever the appellation, the older people in the United States are not getting an even break.

There is a smugness on the part of some people in shrugging off people living on social security or other retirement, which insinuates these people have been taken care of and have no further problems. Some retirement plans do provide for a comfortable income after gainful employment has ceased, but not all by any means.

Social security is one which does not, and in fact was intended as no more than a helping hand. Adding injury to insult is the fact persons on social security are not permitted to earn more than a token income from other sources before they forfeit the social security retirement they paid into for many years during their careers.

And if that is not slapping down the older folks quite hard enough, it is next to impossible for someone in his sixties or seventies — no matter how healthy, talented or able — to find any kind of regular employment.

Maybe this generation gap just sort of happened, and really wasn't planned that way. But, then, nobody seems to be doing anything about it, either.

Einstein Theory

Almost three years ago, the United States launched Pioneer 6, an instrument-laden spacecraft with a planned life expectancy of six months. The vehicle performed admirably, sending back data on radiation, magnetic fields, solar winds and other properties of outer space.

The only thing Pioneer 6 didn't do that it was expected to do was die. It is still going strong, and near the end of November will perform one of its most valuable tasks — test the Einstein theory of relativity. About Nov. 21 Pioneer 6 will begin to go around the sun.

As it does, scientists will be listening to its radio signals to see if they change frequency, as they should if the Einstein theory is correct.

This will be an unexpected feat of the space venture.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven years ago Leonard Ross' knowledge of stocks earned him $164,000. Since then, despite one of the biggest bull markets ever, Ross' fortune has not again reached that figure.

Not that he has done that poorly investing. He hasn't. In fact, his theories brought him substantial gains for a while. That is, until he began speculating this year.

Some people might remember Ross, now a 23-year-old doctoral candidate at Yale, as the young-ster who amazed television audiences by accurately answering stock market questions on "The $64,000 Question" and "The Big Surprise."

Taxes soon reduced the stake to between $60,000 and $70,000. The money then went into a trust fund, tied up in red tape that made it almost impossible for the young wizard to put it into either blue chip or glamor stock.

In the ensuing years, the market took off on a prolonged rise, sometimes interrupted, during which hot issues tripled in months and even blue chips doubled in a year. It was a time to be in stocks, but Ross wasn't.

Instead, most of the money went into savings and loan associations, which paid an assured interest rate but nothing like the returns that might have been provided by a similar investment in their shares.

Was Ross frustrated? "No," he said in an interview. "My interest lapsed and I eventually resigned myself to not being able to invest. I could have done so, but only with red tape, and then it would have been hard to get out too."

He explained, "It was too risky to commit money to a rigidly controlled approach to investments. So I just sat it out."

During the sit-out period young Ross was graduated from Verdugo Hills High School in the Tujunga section of Los Angeles. He entered Reed College in Portland, Ore., and then received his degree from the University of California.

Yale Law School was next, and he became editor-in-chief of the Yale Law Journal before graduating. He is now a graduate student in economics, and hopes to receive a doctorate in 1970. After that comes teaching or government service.

Two years ago Ross turned 21 and came into possession of his fortune, a large part of which he promptly invested in stocks.

"I did well the first year," he said, "doing primarily what my father had done: invest in stocks with sound earnings histories and low price-earnings ratios; the classical cyclical industries; industries in which the downside risk is limited."

With this conservative attitude Ross made in the first year about 35 per cent on his investments, a solid return for rather minimal risks.

"This year I didn't do as well," he said, "attributable I think to a different strategy. I simply got into speculative situations on the basis of friends' guesses. I think I've bailed myself out. Now I'm going back to the first approach, with a little more care."

Ross' strategy will be to choose stocks "entirely on fundamentals—on good earnings histories, avoiding guesses as to market trends and avoiding tips also."

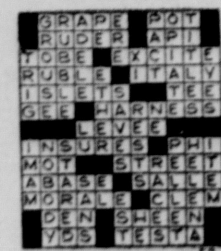

He hopes also to overcome what he feels is another investing weakness, a difficulty with the timing of his sales. "I have a tendency to get out too soon," he said.

With his vast knowledge of the market, and his training in finance and economics, Ross hopes to begin work soon with some friends on a basic book on investments.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A new bill of rights was created in 1947 by President Harry S. Truman. With the emphatic stroke of a pen, the President's Committee on the Employment of the Handicapped was born. The badge of courage worn by the handicapped was not sufficient to bring them to the dignity they deserved.

An extension of this significant social advance was made by President John F. Kennedy in 1962 when the horizon of the committee's objectives was widened to include the physically and mentally handicapped. Now the lifeline between the handicapped and the dignified hope they deserve is known as the President's Committee for the Employment of the Handicapped.

The scientific advances in the field of rehabilitative medicine are ingenious. Patients who were unable to move outside of their own homes are now able to use appliances that take them into the world and bring them freedom from bondage and isolation. They now drive automobiles with statistical records of safety that are the envy of those who take for granted the normal, healthy functioning of their limbs.

Employers who were taught that the handicapped are an advantage rather than a burden have found untold skill, diligence, ambition, and responsibility in those who might have been discarded by society.

Along with the great scientific strides toward the target of physical and emotional health, must come a greater social awareness of society's obligation to the handicapped. Unless this cohesive unity is made to flourish, society itself will be cheated of the latent accomplishments of those who are labeled as handicapped.

The key to good health is how well a human being functions in his home, in his family and in society. The handicap of a previous heart attack, the handicap of a previous bout with pneumonia, the handicap of an emotional breakdown only remains a permanent handicap if the victim is committed to live within the confining walls of that handicap. Liberation and emancipation from the binding shackles of a

A Mandate Difference

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
Contrary to what is being said because of the narrow spread between the popular vote received by the two major nominees, Dick Nixon has far more of a mandate than John F. Kennedy had after the squeaker election of 1960.

You can reach this conclusion via several lines of analysis. For example, you can look at the party situation in this country, with a special eye on the condition of the Democrats. Two, there is the liberal versus the moderate — conservative ideological lineup. Three, there is the makeup of the two houses of Congress. Four, the power back home in the states is important for what it has to tell about local desires.

The Democrats, after several months of bickering, finally came together in the last week of the election to deliver a respectably close vote for Hubert Humphrey. But the coalition, this time, was for one day only. The fact is that, nationally speaking, there is very little to hold the Democrats together now that the federal patronage is in Republican hands. The Democrats in the liberal Northeast are bent on making the party over in their own image: the election of the original "dump Lyndon Johnson" man, Allard Lowenstein, to Congress from a Long Island district is a portent of continuing struggle for the soul of the party. If the Lowenstein element should ever take control, however, it would be to preside over a rump party of the Northeast, with "colonies" in California and the state of Washington. Between a Lowenstein and almost any southern Democratic "old party" Congressman you can name, the differences call to mind the words of that old song, "How deep is the ocean, how high is the sky?" The entire South, from the border states to the Gulf, would go Republican rather than help elect a Lowenstein "new politics" man President.

The Democratic hope, as of the present, is that Senators such as Muskie of Maine, Harris of Oklahoma, and Magnuson of Washington can constitute a Democratic "vital center" during the coming "Nixon era." But any such center has its work cut out for it in trying to bring the young, the blacks, the ideological university professorial and the extreme Dr. Spock pacifists into a unified party that will include Senators Dick Russell and Herman Talmadge of Georgia, to say nothing of the governors of Texas, Mississippi and Alabama.

In contrast to the Democrats, the Republicans stand as a national party. They were good enough to win most of the industrial Middle West of the crucial state of New Jersey in the East, all of the border states save for closely contested Maryland, a few big ones on the Atlantic seaboard South, the plains states, the mountain and inter-mountain states, and California and Oregon on the Pacific coast. By winning moderate-to-conservative margins in over thirty states, the Republicans, though a minority in both houses of Congress, stand to split the southern Democrats apart from the Northeastern Democrats on most legislative matters.

Congress was going "conservative" all through Lyndon Johnson's last years in office. When you consider the make-up of the two major parties, and reflect on the ideological realities that bind important Republicans together while they cut the Democrats in two, it is apparent that Nixon will be able to depend on a "conservative" Congressional majority for many types of bills in spite of accidents of party nomenclature. Congress is already on record as a "law and order" grouping. It blocked the appointment of Fortas as Chief Justice of the United States, it passed the surtax, it is against shoveling money into the pockets of politicians whose blueprints for curing our ghetto troubles have proved sadly deficient. Moreover, the prospect for Congressional dissent over Vietnam must yield in time to the fact that the North Vietnamese no longer have what it takes to mount big offensives, or, indeed, to wage any sort of real war.

Back in the states, it is important to realize that the Republican governors, who are now well in the majority, should be able to make common cause with a Nixon Administration in an attempt to fashion an effective program for rehabilitating our central cities. It won't be easy for Nixon to govern a nation that has tolerated the Yippies, let campus extremism run to anarchy, and permitted the politics of "confrontation" to develop at the expense of the politics of discussion. But he has enough of a mandate to hew out a line of his own, particularly when it is conceded that almost sixty per cent of the electorate voted for a change.

INAUGURAL CHAIRMEN—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (left), Illinois, and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Michigan, are co-chairmen for inauguration Jan. 20. They are GOP Congress leaders.

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

Plight Of The Aged

Everyone is familiar with that generation gap usually referred to in which the generations supposedly are so far apart in viewpoint that they do not recognize one another as inhabitants of the same planet. But there is another generation gap — a big one — which may be considerably more important.

That is the offhand manner in which the United States treats its older inhabitants. Some observers have tried to cushion the blow by referring to this group as "senior citizens," but whatever the appellation, the older people in the United States are not getting an even break.

There is a smugness on the part of some people in shrugging off people living on social security or other retirement, which insinuates these people have been taken care of and have no further problems. Some retirement plans do provide for a comfortable income after gainful employment has ceased, but not all by any means.

Social security is one which does not, and in fact was intended as no more than a helping hand. Adding injury to insult is the fact persons on social security are not permitted to earn more than a token income from other sources before they forfeit the social security retirement they paid into for many years during their careers.

And if that is not slapping down the older folks quite hard enough, it is next to impossible for someone in his sixties or seventies — no matter how healthy, talented or able — to find any kind of regular employment.

Maybe this generation gap just sort of happened, and really wasn't planned that way. But, then, nobody seems to be doing anything about it, either.

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 19, the 324th day of 1968. There are 42 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1863, President Abraham Lincoln delivered his Gettysburg address.

On this date:

In 1497, Vasco da Gama discovered the passage to India around the Cape of Good Hope.

In 1794, the United States and Britain signed the Jay Treaty, adjusting issues left unsettled by the Revolutionary War.

In 1831, the 20th American president, James Garfield, was born on a farm near Mentor, Ohio.

In 1919 the U.S. Senate rejected the Treaty of Versailles after World War I.

In 1954, it was announced that the United States would build a radar warning system across arctic Canada.

In 1962, a jazz concert was held at the White House for the first time as Mrs. John F. Kennedy entertained the teen-age children of diplomats assigned to Washington.

Ten years ago — The United States said it would withdraw the Marines who had been sent to Lebanon six months earlier to investigate charges of intervention by the United Arab Republic.

A number of our Olympic gold medal winning athletes are planning to turn to professional sports. Can't blame 'em if they became fond of the little round samples of the precious stuff they won through their athletic prowess at Mexico City.

Incidentally, a horse named Golden Buttons recently won a big race at Aqueduct track. Understand the nag showed plenty of Olympic speed.

One sure way to lose your shirt, says the man at the next desk, is to constantly try living on the cuff.

Heavy rainfalls and insufficient sunshine, report European grape growers, probably will make this a poor vintage year. There's a bit of bad news our wine bibbers will find it hard to swallow.

The most aggravating thing about snow, says Zadok Dumkopf, is that it begins to look shopworn almost immediately.

Comes the Christmas shopping season and the average householder finds it hard to put a little more budge in the family budget.

Dear Abby: Worried About Her Handyman Hubby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman in this neighborhood who is getting on all our nerves. She's a widow in her late fifties, and she is all the time asking our husbands to do things for her. She is well off enough to hire things done, but she seems to prefer calling husbands. It can be anything from starting her car to getting her cat off the roof.

My husband is 62, but he still has a roving eye, so yesterday when this widow called him to get her cat off her roof, he just split himself getting his ladder and going down there. He must have been gone an hour.

When he came back, I asked him what took him so long and he said, "She invited me in for coffee." Abby, do you think they were drinking coffee all that time column that it's just a lot of talk it will do some good. It's a good house and it's not falling down or anything.

DEAR HAVING: There is no such thing as a haunted house, but my merely making that statement won't help. Fix the place up, and give it a new look, otherwise you won't stand a ghost of a chance of selling it.

DEAR ABBY: I would be very grateful for any advice you or any of your readers could give me. I have a wonderful husband and two lovely children. My problem is with my daughter, age 8.

She is now in the second grade and has always liked school, until the last month or so. Since then she has said that her friends didn't "like" her any more.

Every day it's the same story: She gets up complaining that she's "sick" and wants to stay home. Then when I make her get ready for school she cries and says she doesn't want to go because nobody "likes" her. Abby, it breaks my heart to send a child to school crying, but what can I do? I try to reassure her, but it does no good. By the time she's out of sight I'm in tears, too.

Is there something I should do? Or should I let it go? UPSET MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: When a child suddenly feels friendless, disliked and unwanted at school, there is a reason. Make it your business to find out why. Spend as much time with your daughter as possible in order to make her feel comfortable with you, and without prying, give her every opportunity to confide in you. If she doesn't reveal her problem, consult with her teacher. Perhaps she will have a clue. If that fails, and your daughter continues to dread school, seek professional help. But don't let it go.

CONFIDENTIAL TO L.L. OF PHILLY: Yes, sex is "natural." But so is eating. And civilized people control their appetites. They don't walk into a bakery and grab everything that looks good to them.

PARIS (AP) — An American offering $1 million for information about Hugh Francis Redmond sits in a hotel room here and waits for the Red Chinese to call.

They didn't in London, the Hague or Stockholm, and it doesn't seem likely they will call here either.

The man is Sol Friedman, a Yonkers, N.Y., lawyer who is administrator of a $1 million fund for Redmond, an American who has been in Shanghai jails for the last 17 years on spy charges.

The money was raised by public subscription to buy Redmond's release. But since July 4, 1967 the Red Chinese have cut off all news about him.

"We're now at the point where the money is for buying information," said Friedman. "Is he dead or alive? How can we find out? His 72-year-old mother is literally tortured by not knowing."

Redmond, 48, also of Yonkers, was arrested in Shanghai in 1951 and sentenced to life imprisonment in 1954 on charges of maintaining contact with U.S. intelligence agents in Hong Kong.

Advertisements placed in newspapers in the cities where Communist China has diplomatic representatives have netted Friedman many calls from men with schemes and price tags, ranging from $10,000 to $250,000.

Other callers "just seem kooky, fortune-hunting types," Friedman said.

The lawyer said he fears for Redmond's safety because three other Americans imprisoned in Communist China have been allowed to correspond regularly with their families.

The other prisoners are Roman Catholic Bishop James E. Walsh, now 76, of Cumberland, Md., serving a 20-year term imposed in 1960; John T. Downey, 37, of Wallingford, Conn., serving a life term since 1954 on espionage charges; and Richard G. Fecteau, 39, of Lynn, Mass., sentenced in 1952 to 20 years imprisonment on spy charges.

In each European capital where he waits, Friedman has made a perfunctory trip to the Red Chinese mission to deposit a form letter concerning Redmond.

It was refused in the Hague and accepted in Stockholm. In London, "I was told, Did I know that America was a war-mongering nation? Did I know that America has committed an act of hostility towards the People's Republic of China by occupying and permitting the occupation of Taiwan?"

"I said I was aware of the Chinese position on these things, and I thought for a second we were moving. But that was all. The man went away," said Friedman.

"It's been a frustrating trip."

The General Guild has been responsible for purchasing over $62,000 worth of equipment for the hospital over the past 18 years.

There will be many hand-knit items, Christmas decorations, many articles for Christmas gifts, baked goods and a snack bar. Members of the guild buy their own materials and the entire proceeds are given to the guild treasury.

Chairman for this year is Mrs. Terry Roof. She reports that plans are progressing smoothly and another successful bazaar is anticipated.

Mrs. Jones showed how many different things can be used as molds for candles. She demonstrated how to make the candles and what materials to use and how they could be used in holiday decorating arrangements.

Boat Sinks; Some Dead

MANILA (AP) — A docking collision sank an interisland passenger boat at Cebu in the central Philippines Monday. Early reports said 200 passengers were missing, but later it appeared that less than 10 were unaccounted for.

The passenger ferry Iruna broke apart and sank minutes after a collision with the Eastern Moon, a 5,338-ton British freighter out of Hong Kong.

A national police officer at Cebu, about 300 miles from Manila, said only 30 passengers were aboard, and at least 26 of them had been rescued along with the entire crew. Earlier reports said 200 persons were aboard and at least six bodies had been recovered.

The Manila Daily Mirror said 46 persons had been saved and that no dead had been found. Rescue divers were being hampered by stiff winds, rough water and oil slicks, the Mirror said.

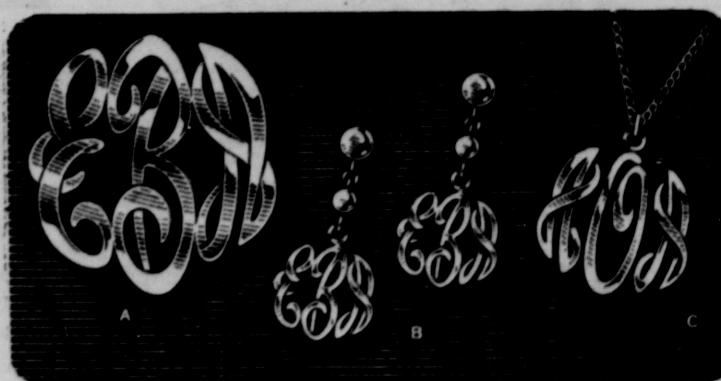

The Iruna reportedly was pulling away from the dock in a heavy rain when the collision with the incoming freighter occurred.

General Electric Plant Observes 20th Anniversary

GENERAL ELECTRIC — The growth of Circleville GE Lamp Plant over the past 20 years of its operation has made it the largest fluorescent lamp plant in the world.

VETERANS — Hal Spencer, general foreman and E. G. Grigg, plant manager, share in the 20th anniversary celebration of Circleville's GE Lamp Plant. Both men are veterans of the local plant having served here for the 20 years of the plant's operation.

General Electric To Build Plant Here — The impact of this headline was felt throughout the entire area when it appeared in the Dec. 12 edition of the Circleville Herald in 1947.

Today, after 20 years of operation in Circleville, the continued plant growth and the economic growth of the community in relationship to the plant are reviewed in recognition of the company's 20th anniversary month.

The first indication of a new, proposed industry in the city came during the 1947 Pumpkin Show. At that time the Chamber of Commerce placed a booth at the annual fair for registration of potential workers in a new factory whose name was not divulged.

Work of constructing the new plant was to begin shortly after assurances were received concerning the number of potential employees. The chamber also employed persons to make a house-to-house survey for the purpose of listing job applicants for a nationally known manufacturing concern.

who reportedly would employ 500 women and 100 or more men.

AREA residents' reaction proved most favorable and it was in December of that year that the manufacturers name was first made known to the community.

Why was Circleville chosen for this new $2,500,000 plant? Trained employees of the company's survey team, having pinpointed Ohio as the state of their choice for a new lamp plant, then centered their attention to Circleville for its location, transportation facilities and access and previously determined community interest and support. The surveyors chose well and the community did well in supporting that choice as indicated in the plants continued physical growth and in individual citizens and community's economic growth.

Without further ado, plans were readied and ground broken

for construction in January of 1948.

In October of 1948 the plant furnace was fired for the first

An informative film about the detection of forgeries will be followed by a question and answer session, plus a display of altered checks shown by Walter Knight of the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

Members of the panel include Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, Patrolman Wesley Barton of the Circleville Police Department, Judge William Ammer, Prosecuting Attorney Robert Huffer, Attorney Charles Hosterman, John Fuller, cashier of First National Bank, and John Hall of the Small Business Administration.

The clinic will be held at Circleville Senior High School on Clark Drive at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited, there is no charge, but reservations are to be made by calling the Chamber office at 474-4923.

Local Man Bound To Grand Jury

Darrell Morgan, 138 W. Main St., was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $500 bond by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Monday.

Breathitt To Speak

FORT MITCHELL, Ky. (AP) — Former Gov. Ned Breathitt of Kentucky will address the League of Women Voters today as it begins a three-day seminar here on land and water use of the Ohio River Basin.

time and production was started with 25 employees under the supervision of E. G. Grigg, operation engineer. It was a memorable occasion when the first GE Slimline fluorescent lamp came off the assembly line at the Circleville Lamp works and it was presented to Thurman I. Miller, then mayor of Circleville.

New Coast Guard Ship Commissioned

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Coast Guard's newest search and rescue vessel, the Coast Guard Cutter Dependable, will be officially commissioned Friday at the Cleveland Coast Guard moorings.

The Dependable, the sixth of seven 210-foot cutters built by the American Shipbuilding Co. of Lorain, will carry a crew of 61 officers and men who will live in fully air - conditioned quarters.

REMINISCING — Seven of the original plant employees still with the firm, gather to recall experiences over the past 20 years with the GE plant. They are from the left, Betty Morrison, Ralph McCain, Jim Trimmer, Mary Frances Poling, Florence Stahr, Ralph DeLong and Wayne Stewart.

According to Grigg, from then until Christmas Eve, workmen practiced, tested lamps, etc. and on Christmas Eve shipped the first lamps to Detroit. The first plant Christmas party was held that evening after making the first shipment.

Ten men originally came into the area to put together a plant operation. Four of those men have remained throughout the plant's growth and development and still serve on the supervisory staff. Of the original 25 employees who fostered the first shipment of lamps, seven are still with the company today.

THE GE plant, its personnel and the community have recognized remarkable growth over the past 20 years. Twice in those 20 years the company has added to its size and facilities. In 1948, after 10 years of operation in Circleville, an addition was made to the plant

Overtime Pay Charges Filed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An Elyria painting firm and two of its officials have been charged with not paying employees overtime.

Kaiser Painting & Sand Blasting Co., its president, John E. Kaiser, and secretary-treasurer Charles G. Henline of Lorain, were each charged Monday on four counts of either not paying overtime or falsifying work records.

which doubled it in size and required added employees for operation. In 1966, an addition was again made to the plant, both in facilities and personnel. The proposed $2,500,000 plant of 1947 has grown to a very real $7 million in November, 1968, now employs many hundreds and is presently the largest fluorescent lamp plant in the world.

Results of the impact announcing the operation of a General Electric plant in Circleville in 1947 are evidenced in the success story today of a 20-year harmonious merger of a plant and its community.

Today, after 20 years of operation in Circleville, the continued plant growth and the economic growth of the community in relationship to the plant are reviewed in recognition of the company's 20th anniversary month.

The first indication of a new, proposed industry in the city came during the 1947 Pumpkin Show. At that time the Chamber of Commerce placed a booth at the annual fair for registration of potential workers in a new factory whose name was not divulged.

Work of constructing the new plant was to begin shortly after assurances were received concerning the number of potential employees. The chamber also employed persons to make a house-to-house survey for the purpose of listing job applicants for a nationally known manufacturing concern.

3 Ohio Soldiers Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Ohioans were named in a Vietnam casualty list released Monday by the Defense Department.

Killed in action were Army Spec. 4 William E. Brown of Hillsboro, Army Pfc. Anthony T. Culotta of Shaker Heights and Marine Pfc. David A. Fialko of Springfield.

who reportedly would employ 500 women and 100 or more men.

AREA residents' reaction proved most favorable and it was in December of that year that the manufacturers name was first made known to the community.

Why was Circleville chosen for this new $2,500,000 plant? Trained employees of the company's survey team, having pinpointed Ohio as the state of their choice for a new lamp plant, then centered their attention to Circleville for its location, transportation facilities and access and previously determined community interest and support. The surveyors chose well and the community did well in supporting that choice as indicated in the plants continued physical growth and in individual citizens and community's economic growth.

Without further ado, plans were readied and ground broken

for construction in January of 1948.

In October of 1948 the plant furnace was fired for the first time and production was started with 25 employees under the supervision of E. G. Grigg, operation engineer. It was a memorable occasion when the first GE Slimline fluorescent lamp came off the assembly line at the Circleville Lamp works and it was presented to Thurman I. Miller, then mayor of Circleville.

New Coast Guard Ship Commissioned

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Coast Guard's newest search and rescue vessel, the Coast Guard Cutter Dependable, will be officially commissioned Friday at the Cleveland Coast Guard moorings.

The Dependable, the sixth of seven 210-foot cutters built by the American Shipbuilding Co. of Lorain, will carry a crew of 61 officers and men who will live in fully air-conditioned quarters.

According to Grigg, from then until Christmas Eve, workmen practiced, tested lamps, etc. and on Christmas Eve shipped the first lamps to Detroit. The first plant Christmas party was held that evening after making the first shipment.

Ten men originally came into the area to put together a plant operation. Four of those men have remained throughout the plant's growth and development and still serve on the supervisory staff. Of the original 25 employees who fostered the first shipment of lamps, seven are still with the company today.

THE GE plant, its personnel and the community have recognized remarkable growth over the past 20 years. Twice in those 20 years the company has added to its size and facilities. In 1948, after 10 years of operation in Circleville, an addition was made to the plant

Overtime Pay Charges Filed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An Elyria painting firm and two of its officials have been charged with not paying employees overtime.

Kaiser Painting & Sand Blasting Co., its president, John E. Kaiser, and secretary-treasurer Charles G. Henline of Lorain, were each charged Monday on four counts of either not paying overtime or falsifying work records.

which doubled it in size and required added employees for operation. In 1966, an addition was again made to the plant, both in facilities and personnel. The proposed $2,500,000 plant of 1947 has grown to a very real $7 million in November, 1968, now employs many hundreds and is presently the largest fluorescent lamp plant in the world.

Results of the impact announcing the operation of a General Electric plant in Circleville in 1947 are evidenced in the success story today of a 20-year harmonious merger of a plant and its community.

California Designers Slate Long Pants, Tunics Next

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the year of the minidress and bikini, California sportswear designers have launched a counterattack of long pants, long tunics, and long beach pajamas. The pants, which opened the spring showings of the California fashion creators are flared and feminine, flopping around the ankles. But the vests, another borrowed bonanza from men's wear, are as tailored as can be.

In a daylong show of sportswear, many a skirt was seen, Alex Colman was the only designer to touch the basic shift at all. His were bright bold floral prints native to California.

The fabrics this year are active, washable arnelles and polyesters. The colors are the American combo of red white and blue, and splashing prints in brown, black and white. Pastels are still a perennial favorite.

Whitestag has added to its classic line the new fashion concept of wide legs and tunic tops. Tunics often zip closed and have belts. And vests make a plain pair of pants into a suit.

Though pants are total, the fitted skin peeks out in the returning midriff blouse. Whitestag shows it in knit and Charm of Hollywood puts it over sheer voile bell-bottom pants called "See Legs" which are almost transparent.

Golf dresses, tennis dresses, wrapped front pants, disguised as skirt all point to the fact that California ports wear is more casual than ever.

"Our customers are having more time to play," said Alex Colman, "so we're giving them something to play in."

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Vice president Hubert H. Humphrey talks today to America's Apollo 8 astronauts and reviews preparations for their around-the-moon flight at Christmas time.

Humphrey is making a last trip to the nation's spaceport in his capacity as chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council. The vice president has been vacationing in Miami.

The vice president meets with the Apollo 8 astronauts—Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders—and discusses launch preparations with other officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Ready Salt For Winter

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ohio River barges carrying 2,500 tons of salt for use on the city's roadways this winter are expected to arrive here later this week.

Street department officials said 6,000 tons already have been stockpiled and the figure eventually will grow to about 20,000 tons.

Road maintenance personnel for Hamilton County said they are preparing to combat the winter's snow with 10,000 tons, which should be available to 18 townships within the county by the first part of December.

A spokesman for the State Highway Department reported that more than 150,000 tons of salt are being stored at 250 locations throughout the state.

Highway experts say salt, although corrosive, is preferred over sand because sand residue prompts skidding when snow melts.

Painesville Refuses Police Pay Demands

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Demands by police and 200 other city employees for higher pay were rejected Monday night by City Council, which said the city could not go beyond its pay package granted last year.

The only change from what council agreed to allow a year ago was on a recommendation by Vaughn Betzer, chairman of the employees relations committee, that the city pay full hospitalization for employees and their families at an annual cost of $27,800.

Mrs. Onassis Back In U.S.; Husband Stays In London

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis has returned to the United States for the first time since her wedding a month ago.

Smiling but uncommunicative, the modishly dressed former first lady arrived Monday by plane from London, where her husband, Aristotle Onassis, stayed behind for the time being tending to business affairs.

Friday is the fifth anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and next Monday the late President's son and namesake will be 8 years old. Caroline Kennedy's 11th birthday is two days later.

Ohio Resident Found Dead Near Fort Wayne

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Jack Burford, 30, walked out of the Wauseon, Ohio, hospital Sept. 17, a few days after having had an appendectomy.

Monday, a body found north of here Saturday by a rabbit hunter was identified as that of Burford. The Allen County, Ind., coroner said he had been dead since Sept. 19 or 20.

The coroner said Burford apparently had tried to hang himself by his belt from a tree limb. The limb broke and the man fell to the ground, where he choked to death.

Wauseon hospital authorities said Burford was from Stryker, Ohio, but that they knew little else about him or why he walked out of the hospital.

The children attended the wedding Oct. 20 of their 39-year-old mother and the 62-year-old Onassis on the Greek shipping magnate's privately-

4 Persons Hurt In Plane Crash

DETROIT (AP) — Four persons were injured, three critically, when a twin-engine light airplane crashed while attempting to take off from Detroit's Metropolitan Airport Monday night.

Stephen Martin, 21, of Scottsbluff, Neb., the pilot, said the plane lost power in both engines when it was about 50 feet in the air and nosedived into the runway. He was listed in satisfactory condition.

In critical condition were Bryce Kater, 27, of Galion, Ohio; Robert Stipe, 19, of Lorain, Ohio, and Maureen Talcott, 20, of Sheffield Lake, Ohio.

owned island of Skorpios. The children then returned to their private schools in New York.

During the flight aboard a Trans World Airlines jet Mrs. Onassis sat with Colin Simpson, a senior executive of Olympic Airways, owned by her husband.

She brought along a white pekingese named Daisy, who spent most of the flight in a cardboard carrying case. Daisy was allowed out briefly for some cuddling and lap-sitting and a sip of water.

Mrs. Onassis wore a dark gray coat over a short-sleeved, lighter gray dress, gold earrings, a brown shoulder bag, and low-heeled brown shoes. Her dress was mid length.

She was met by Onassis' 18-year-old daughter, Christina. John and Caroline Kennedy were not there because of the weather, which was wet and foggy. The plane was 2½ hours late in arriving due to a refueling stop at Boston and a stacking up over Kennedy.

Special TV For Sirhan Trial Eyed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Unless the defense or prosecution objects, closed circuit television will be used to accommodate an overflow crowd of newsmen at the trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan on charges of slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Judge Herbert V. Walker of Superior Court, who will preside at the trial, made the disclosure Monday. He said he will hold a hearing, probably next week, to see if there are any objections.

The defense, at the same hearing, is expected to ask another postponement. The trial now is scheduled to start Dec. 9.

Sirhan, under heavy guard since Kennedy's assassination just after proclaiming victory in California's June presidential primary, is to be tried in Courtroom 107. This was chosen so Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian, can be taken from his 13th floor jail cell without being escorted through any public section of the building.

Workmen have installed steel plates over the windows. The courtroom seats only 75, and Judge Walker said there have been more than 100 requests from "responsible news media" for the 35 seats available for newsmen.

The closed-circuit TV camera would be concealed in a fake airconditioning box. Its view would take in everything but the jury. The camera would be the automatic type used in commercial surveillance. Sight and sound would be piped to a room with seats for about 80 accredited newsmen. The general public would not see the closed-circuit showing.

A GAS DRYER SAVES A LOT MORE THAN MONEY

A modern, dependable Gas dryer saves in so many ways. Time, for instance. No more clothes line hang-ups. No waiting for the sun to shine. Think of all the things you can do with the time you save. And a Gas dryer saves Mom the back aches of lugging loads of laundry to and from a long, long clothes line. No more bending and stretching. Not only does a Gas clothes dryer save wear and tear on Mom, it saves wear and tear on clothes. A Gas dryer tumble dries the most delicate clothes safely . . . gently. They come out soft, fluffy, sweet-smelling as a day in May. And of course, since a penny-a-load Gas dryer does the job for a fraction of the cost of drying clothes with electricity, you can figure it'll save well over $100 in operating costs over the life of the dryer. A gas dryer is a time saver, a clothes saver, a Mom saver and a money saver.

Black Kent Students Out In Dispute

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for Black United Students (BUS) at Kent State University says black students who walked off the campus will remain away until the university accedes to their demand for "complete amnesty" for all who took part in a sit-in demonstration last week.

The spokesman, Larry Ghe, said Monday night that BUS is going to "set up our own university" at the Centenary Methodist Church in Akron.

About 300 Negro students left the campus late Monday after Dr. Robert I. White, Kent State president, said at a news conference that the university could not accede to the amnesty demand.

Most of them went to the Akron church to stay overnight, while others stayed with sympathetic white professors from Kent State's Humanities Department or went to their homes in Cleveland.

Several white students gathered to watch the Negroes leave, but the withdrawal was peaceful.

Some 200 students, most of them Negro, participated in the six-hour sit-in last Wednesday at the university's job placement office protesting the presence on campus of recruiters from the Oakland, Calif., police department. Kent State police practiced "militarized racism."

'ane Russell's New Husband Dies Suddenly

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—An apparent heart seizure caused the death Monday of actor Roger Barrett, 47, who married actress Jane Russell less than three months ago.

Miss Russell, 47, and Barrett returned just last week from a four-week honeymoon and, for her, a performance tour of English night clubs.

Miss Russell was divorced last July from Bob Waterfield, the former pro football star, after 25 years of marriage.

Barrett complained of intense pain about 7:30 a.m. and Miss Russell ran to a sister-in-law's nearby home for help. When she returned, Barrett apparently was dead. The crew of a fire department rescue ambulance listed the possible cause of death as a heart attack.

he received the General Benedict Crowell Gold Medal.

In a news conference earlier, Gen. Westmoreland denied that the United States had reduced its operation in Vietnam to a "holding action."

"We are fighting the same type of war of attrition we have been all along," he said. "With daily skirmishes, but no huge battles, aimed at grinding down the enemy to make it easier for the South Vietnamese Army to do the job alone. Last week we killed over 2,000 of the enemy."

He said South Vietnam's army has "noticeably improved in the past year."

The general said he was convinced that the South Vietnamese Army now is strong enough and determined enough to handle the Viet Cong without U. S. presence, even with the current level of North Vietnamese Army strength in the South. He said The North Vietnamese pulled back much of their strength following the bombing halt.

Westmoreland also said that the U.S. 24th Infantry Division is prepared to return from the United States to Europe to beef up NATO forces should the need arise.

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Oberlin College students on a hunger strike protesting the Vietnam war and resumption of military recruiting on the campus indicate they will continue the fast for at least another week.

Committee Organized For Health Plan

A county-wide Comprehensive Health Planning Committee has been organized here as a means of implementing the provisions of Public Law 89-749.

This law places new emphasis on health planning.

The program which is being coordinated in the central Ohio area by the Columbus Hospital Federation stresses bringing all facets of health planning together in a "Partnership for Health."

The county committee will provide local representation in the planning function and assure that decision making will be maintained at the local level.

Several months ago representatives of the Columbus Hospital Federation met with local community leaders and persons working in the field of health in Pickaway County to acquaint them with the provisions of Public Law 89-749.

More recently a committee made up of County Health Commissioner Frank R. Moore, City Health Commissioner, Paul Roan, James D. Stambaugh, administrator at Berger Hospital, and Mrs. Sterling Poling who previously served as chairman of a county health study committee, met with K. J. Derek of the Columbus Hospital Federation to prepare a list of local persons who would meet the guide lines for representation on the committee as recommended by the Columbus Hospital Federation.

A preliminary meeting was held by these people two weeks ago during which the make-up of the committee was approved and at which additional names were added. A second meeting will be held at which permanent officers will be named and a plan of action will be determined. This meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. on Thursday in the Berger Hospital dining room.

NAACP Appeals Court Decision On Discrimination

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Akron branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is appealing a U. S. District Court ruling that the Akron Board of Education was not guilty of racial discrimination.

Edwin L. Palms of Akron filed a notice of appeal in district court Monday for the 6th Circuit U. S. Court of Appeals at Cincinnati.

In a 15-page opinion handed down Oct. 18, Judge James C. Connell dismissed the NAACP suit, which charged "de facto" segregation in Akron city schools.

The suit was filed on behalf of 37 Negro and nine white pupils.

NCR Strike Now Official, Leaders Say

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The National Cash Register Co. has been struck for the first time here by the NCR Employees Independent Union.

Despite reports of progress in contract negotiations, an unexplained wildcat strike broke out Monday. Estimates of the number of union workers honoring the picket lines went as high as 10,000.

Monday night the strike received the sanction of the union's Executive Committee. The company informed the 14,863 union members that they should not report for work today at the NCR complex of buildings here.

A. Charles Withrow, president of the union, said the Executive Committee had sanctioned the strike "to protect the majority of union members."

Earlier Monday Withrow said, "We are negotiating and we are making progress." He said at that time that another session was scheduled for today with company officials.

Negotiations have been under way more than a year. They were held up temporarily in the past months by a National Labor Relations Board election at the plant.

Death Penalty May Be Asked

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Thomas Shriver said he would not qualify the jury on the death penalty as trial began today for three men charged with killing two Nashville policemen.

However, Shriver said he might ask the jury to return a verdict with the death penalty for the three defendants, William G. Allen, 26, of Nashville and Ralph Canady, 28, and Steve Parker, 24, both of Cincinnati.

The three are being tried on a charge of murder in the death of Metro Patrolman Charles Wayne Thomason, 29. They also are charged with murdering Patrolman Thomas E. Johnson.

Shriver said he would not qualify the jury on the death penalty because of a recent Supreme Court ruling that persons cannot be excluded from juries because they do not believe in capital punishment.

Homestead Tax Exemption Issue Raised Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A veteran legislator predicted Monday "we'll do a better job of writing this time around" on a second effort at a homestead exemption amendment.

State Sen. Charles J. Carney, a Youngstown Democrat, said he expected the next general assembly to propose an amendment limited strictly to resident homeowners aged 65 and older.

Carney said the first real estate tax exemption measure—Issue No. 2 on the Nov. 5 ballot—failed because it would have allowed the legislature to grant exemptions to unspecified homeowners under 65.

Leaders of both parties said aid to older homeowners was the "obvious intent" of the amendment, but Carney noted that some "justified doubts" raised in newspaper editorials helped defeat the measure. It lost by more than 500,000 votes Nov. 5.

Black Kent Students Out In Dispute

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for Black United Students (BUS) at Kent State University says black students who walked off the campus will remain away until the university accedes to their demand for "complete amnesty" for all who took part in a sit-in demonstration last week.

The spokesman, Larry Ghe, said Monday night that BUS is going to "set up our own university" at the Centenary Methodist Church in Akron.

About 300 Negro students left the campus late Monday after Dr. Robert I. White, Kent State president, said at a news conference that the university could not accede to the amnesty demand.

Most of them went to the Akron church to stay overnight, while others stayed with sympathetic white professors from Kent State's Humanities Department or went to their homes in Cleveland.

Several white students gathered to watch the Negroes leave, but the withdrawal was peaceful.

Some 200 students, most of them Negro, participated in the six-hour sit-in last Wednesday at the university's job placement office protesting the presence on campus of recruiters from the Oakland, Calif., police department. They claimed that Oakland police practiced "militarized racism."

Something To Think About . . . 'Back To School'

By JEAN CRIST

Recently I had the privilege of attending the Junior High School "open house". It is becoming an annual affair which serves to give parents and interested persons an idea of the curriculum in the Junior High School.

It is obvious from the way everything goes along so smoothly that time and effort have gone into the planning of the evening by the school principal, the teachers, and the student guides. The evening is divided into four 15 minute segments during which the different teachers explain to the parents of their students what they hope to accomplish in their program for the school year. The parents are then given an opportunity to ask questions in regard to the subject. After the "classes" everyone is served refreshments by the economics teacher and her students.

It is an interesting and enjoyable evening that increases the communication between teachers and parents. I feel I speak, not only for myself, but many others when I say the effort is appreciated.

After I attended an "open house" at school I always come home with a variety of reactions. First, and most obvious, my reactions to the teachers in regard to my son who is a student and to the school curriculum in general. But then later I get rather nostalgic and think of times past. I had walked the same halls and sat in the same classrooms that I did over 20 years ago and saw some of the same faces that I saw then. This always gives me a great deal to think about. When I realize I have a son who is as tall as I who is experiencing many of the same things I did it impresses upon me all the cliches I've heard. "They grow up so fast." "Time flies." "You are only young once."

In Saturday night's "Jack Benny's Bag," one of the big sketches of the program was a spoof of the film "The Graduate." Presumably a few of the viewers had not seen the movie and did not know the plot, so they just saw a comedy sketch about an older woman registering with a much younger man at a hotel as husband and wife.

True, it was played just for laughs by Phyllis Diller and Jack Benny, but it still was surprising to find the high point of the sketch was the moment when the hotel's public address system paged "Mrs. John Smith," and all the women in the cocktail lounge jumped up for the telephone.

NBC, which will lose its long running day-time game show, "Let's Make a Deal" to ABC at the end of the year, will replace it with a switch on the old soap opera formula, a serial called "Hidden Faces." The emphasis will be less on misery, divorce and surgical operations and more on mystery and adventure. The half-hour daily drama will kickoff a solid two year block of serials.

With the first "Hall of Fame" drama of the season next Wednesday night on NBC, comes a radical change in the series' format. The first show will be an original by David Marks, "A Punt, A Pass and A Prayer," a story about a professional football player with problems. Another, early in February, will be written for television and treat the matter of mental retardation.

It appears now that CBS has had some second thoughts about "Blondie," the weak lead-off show in its Thursday night schedule. It may be replaced soon with "The Queen and I," a half hour comedy series with Larry Storch and shot partly aboard the old luxury liner, Queen Mary.

tell him how very important this business of learning is. That what he is doing right now, this very day, will shape and mold him into what he will become. That he should be friends with learning because he will be going to school, in effect, for the rest of his life. And that the day will come when he will look back on these years as some of the happiest he has known.

But I say nothing. Why? Because my reminiscing, although pleasant for me, is meaningless to him and because he isn't capable of really understanding these things at his age any more than I was at the same age. Time, one of the greatest teachers, will teach him, as it has me, how little we appreciate the important things in our lives as they happen because we are always looking around the next corner for our happiness instead of realizing we are experiencing it right now, this very moment. It seems that most of our life we are destined to learn in retrospect and he too must follow the pattern. There are some things that cannot be taught, they can only be learned by the individual himself.

But it is within my power to guide and encourage my son in regard to his education and to cooperate with those who attempt to teach him the things he must know to live a productive life in such a complicated society.

It is vital that each of us as parents be aware of and appreciate the tremendous job that faces our school officials and teachers in trying to offer the best in educational programs to our children in such a rapidly changing world and to realize the constant financial restrictions that so often hamper this effort. For it is only through the cooperative effort of parents and school personnel that the education of our children can be what it must be to meet today's demands.

NEW YORK (AP) — The warfare that is being waged against network censorship by such performers as Johnny Carson, the Smothers Brothers and Rowan and Martin's television family seems to be having some effect.

Standards for measuring material acceptable for early evening entertainment programs seems less rigid than a few seasons back. In NBC's "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" where the double meaning and the "in" joke are so important, it seems that the material has steadily become more bold and forthright.

Something To Think About . . . 'Back To School'

By JEAN CRIST

Recently I had the privilege of attending the Junior High School "open house". It is becoming an annual affair which serves to give parents and interested persons an idea of the curriculum in the Junior High School.

It is obvious from the way everything goes along so smoothly that time and effort have gone into the planning of the evening by the school principal, the teachers, and the student guides. The evening is divided into four 15 minute segments during which the different teachers explain to the parents of their students what they hope to accomplish in their program for the school year. The parents are then given an opportunity to ask questions in regard to the subject. After the "classes" everyone is served refreshments by the economics teacher and her students.

It is an interesting and enjoyable evening that increases the communication between teachers and parents. I feel I speak, not only for myself, but many others when I say the effort is appreciated.

After I attended an "open house" at school I always come home with a variety of reactions. First, and most obvious, my reactions to the teachers in regard to my son who is a student and to the school curriculum in general. But then later I get rather nostalgic and think of times past. I had walked the same halls and sat in the same classrooms that I did over 20 years ago and saw some of the same faces that I saw then. This always gives me a great deal to think about. When I realize I have a son who is as tall as I who is experiencing many of the same things I did it impresses upon me all the clichés I've heard. "They grow up so fast." "Time flies." "You are only young once."

I look at my son across the room and find myself wanting to tell him, "I had Spanish class in that room with Miss Walters, your math room was Miss Rooney's old home room", but not doing so because I know in my heart he couldn't be less interested in what I did at that time. I wanted to tell him what a special kind of a thrill it is to talk to my friends with whom I went to school, and others I know, about how our children are learning together just as we did, about the sense of identity and security that can come from this kind of a background. But most of all as I sat there thinking of things I wanted to say but wouldn't, I wanted to tell him how very important this business of learning is. That what he is doing right now, this very day, will shape and mold him into what he will become. That he should be friends with learning because he will be going to school, in effect, for the rest of his life. And that the day will come when he will look back on these years as some of the happiest he has known.

But I say nothing. Why? Because my reminiscing, although pleasant for me, is meaningless to him and because he isn't capable of really understanding these things at his age any more than I was at the same age. Time, one of the greatest teachers, will teach him, as it has me, how little we appreciate the important things in our lives as they happen because we are always looking around the next corner for our happiness instead of realizing we are experiencing it right now, this very moment. It seems that most of our life we are destined to learn in retrospect and he too must follow the pattern. There are some things that cannot be taught, they can only be learned by the individual himself.

But it is within my power to guide and encourage my son in regard to his education and to cooperate with those who attempt to teach him the things he must know to live a productive life in such a complicated society.

It is vital that each of us as parents be aware of and appreciate the tremendous job that faces our school officials and teachers in trying to offer the best in educational programs to our children in such a rapidly changing world and to realize the constant financial restrictions that so often hamper this effort. For it is only through the cooperative efforts of parents and school personnel that the education of our children can be what it must be to meet today's demands.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The warfare that is being waged against network censorship by such performers as Johnny Carson, the Smothers Brothers and Rowan and Martin's television family seems to be having some effect.

Standards for measuring material acceptable for early evening entertainment programs seems less rigid than a few seasons back. In NBC's "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" where the double meaning and the "in" joke are so important, it seems that the material has steadily become more bold and forthright.

Monday night, for instance, amid the welter of flying gags, there were such throw-away lines as, "The pill doesn't work—I've been taking it for years and I still don't get any action." And there were at least a couple of one-liners that used words that would have been blue-pencilled a short time back as too specific for tender ears.

In Saturday night's "Jack Benny's Bag," one of the big sketches of the program was a spoof of the film "The Graduate." Presumably a few of the viewers had not seen the movie and did not know the plot, so they just saw a comedy sketch about an older woman registering with a much younger man at a hotel as husband and wife.

True, it was played just for laughs by Phyllis Diller and Jack Benny, but it still was surprising to find the high point of the sketch was the moment when the hotel's public address system paged "Mrs. John Smith," and all the women in the cocktail lounge jumped up for the telephone.

NBC, which will lose its long running day-time game show, "Let's Make a Deal" to ABC at the end of the year, will replace it with a switch on the old soap opera formula, a serial called "Hidden Faces." The emphasis will be less on misery, divorce and surgical operations and more on mystery and adventure. The half-hour daily drama will kick off a solid two year block of serials.

With the first "Hall of Fame" drama of the season next Wednesday night on NBC, comes a radical change in the series' format. The first show will be an original by David Marks, "A Punt, A Pass and A Prayer," a story about a professional football player with problems. Another, early in February, will be written for television and treat the matter of mental retardation.

It appears now that CBS has had some second thoughts about "Blondie," the weak lead-off show in its Thursday night schedule. It may be replaced soon with "The Queen and I," a half hour comedy series with Larry Storch and shot partly aboard the old luxury liner, Queen Mary.

Sentencing Set In Boy's Death By Shotgun Blast

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Sentencing is set for Friday for Stanley Everett Rice, a 26-year-old fugitive mental patient who pleaded guilty here Monday to the Mother's Day shotgun murder of a young boy. Rice had told authorities here he also killed Tim Trask, 8, in Findlay, Ohio, in the summer of 1965 and another youth in Ontario, Canada, two years earlier. Rice pleaded guilt in the shooting death of Nelson Williams, 11, in a remote area near here. At the time, he was a fugitive from a Concord, Mass. mental hospital.

The assistant public defender here asked that Rice's psychiatric examinations be considered and that he be committed to a mental hospital. The attorney for the state concurred.

Circleville's Run And Shoot Offense Faces Tall Timber

Circleville's new look in basketball this year will be run and shoot.

Under new coach Garold Sowders, the Tigers promise to be an exciting team to watch, but they will be facing some tall timber in the South Central Ohio League.

Wilmington, picked by this corner and by most of the league's cage observers as the team most likely to win the title, has a front line that will average 6-foot 4-inches.

Miami Trace, last year's titleholder and a team that will finish in the top half of the standings, has 6-6 Jack Waddle at center.

WASHINGTON C. H. will be able to field a starting five that will average 6-3. Hillsboro, an explosive squad last year, has All-SCO league guard Mike Moses, who averaged over 21 points a game last year back along with 6-2 Richard Beatty

Up from the reserves is 6-4 Ken Zimmerman.

Only Greenfield will not boast much of a height advantage over Circleville. The McClain Tigers lost all of the starting five. Only two lettermen return. They are Ron Coleman, 6-1 forward, and Tom Kellis, 5-9 guard. The tallest cager on the Greenfield squad is Larry Griffith, a 6-2 sophomore.

When Circleville takes to the floor against Chillicothe for the season's first basketball game Saturday, not one player on the starting five will surpass the six foot mark.

Junior Ty Ankrom will be starting at center. He is a six-footer. Dave Horst has nailed down one forward position, while Dave Hopkins and Charlie Jackson are battling for the other front court spot.

Right now Billy Thomas and Randy Haley are the guards. Horst and Hopkins are the only seniors on the first six.

Haley, a transfer student from Vinton County, is expected to add a dimension to the Tiger scoring punch that Circleville has not had recently.

An excellent shot from anywhere on the floor, he is quick and almost impossible to stop one on one according to coach Sowders.

Here's a look at the rest of the league:

Size and experience should propel Wilmington to the league title.

Coached by Fred Summers, the Hurricane has 6-5 Kim Ewing at one forward, 6-4 Doug Gordley at center and 6-3 Gary Garman at the other forward. In the back court, Summers has two veterans in Chuck Buster and Kenny Williams. All of the starting five are lettermen.

Miami Trace lost two fine forwards in Phil Bihl and Eddie Summers, and an outstanding guard in Bob Thornberry.

HOWEVER, coach Delmar Mowery has big Jack Waddle, 6-6 back at center. He has two outstanding guards in Chuck Weaver, 6-0, and Larry Ankrom, 5-8 and a host of capable cagers to back this duo up.

If Mowery can fill the gap at forward he will have a real contender.

Defense is the name of the game at Washington C. H. where Gary Shafer has taken over the coaching reins.

Shafer has a 6-6 center in Herby Sollars, Bucky Burge, a 6-3 cornerman; 6-2 Lowell Harper, one of the top rebounders on the team last year; 6-3 Steve Phillips and 6-2 Steve Bowers. The latter two are juniors. As sophomore guards playing varsity ball last year, they provided a good scoring threat for the team.

Hillsboro, with four lettermen returning including Moses should be improved over last year's squad. Vernon Hooper is back as head coach. In addition to Moses and Beatty, Hooper has Wayne Strain and Doug Trout returning.

Up from the reserves are Zimmerman, Dan Reed, Tom Barton, Paul Pence, Steve Kelley, Jack Monte DeOca and Rick Pierce. Hooper favors a fast paced game and he has the guards to make the Indians a real threat.

IT will be a rebuilding season for Coach Paul Hager at Greenfield with such fine cagers as Steve Sieg, Rick Smith, and Bob Bristley gone.

In addition to his two returning lettermen of Coleman and Kellis, Hager has six juniors and six sophomores on the squad.

The overall picture in the league is for improved teams. With the exception of Greenfield, and possibly Miami Trace, every coach is anticipating better squads.

The battle for first is between Wilmington and Miami Trace. The middle of the league could develop into a real dog fight, while Greenfield could slide well down the ladder in the standings.

Here is the complete SCO League schedule:

Nov. 22 — Miami Trace at Bishop Ready.

Nov. 23 — Madison South at Washington C. H.; Hillsboro at Xenia Central; Hillsboro at Fairfield; Chillicothe at Circleville; Greenfield vs Portsmouth at Wilmington College.

Nov. 27 — Lebanon at Hillsboro; Fairmont West at Wilmington.

No. 29 — Washington C. H. at Cedarville; Westfall at Circleville; Greenfield at Upper Arlington.

Nov. 30 — Wilmington at Cincinnati Moeller; Clinton Massie at Hillsboro.

Dec. 6 — Washington C. H. at Miami Trace; Circleville at Greenfield; Wilmington at Hillsboro.

Dec. 7 — East Clinton at Washington C. H.; Circleville at Grandview; Miami Trace at Chillicothe; Greenfield at Bexley.

Dec. 13 — Circleville at Washington C. H.; Hillsboro at Miami Trace; Greenfield at Wilmington.

Set Rules In Horse Drug Hearing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Racing Commission promised to issue a set of guidelines today concerning testimony that can be considered at its current hearing on the disqualification of Dancer's Image.

At issue are a series of mysterious post-Derby incidents during which an attempt was made "to salt" the feed and oatbags of Peter Fuller's colt.

The issue was raised by one of Fuller's attorneys, Arthur Grafton, who said that if such testimony were submitted "it would open up a wide field of speculation."

Counsel for the racing commission contends these incidents are closely tied to the current proceedings.

The commission, which opened its hearing Monday, is considering Fuller's appeal of a May 15 ruling by Churchill Downs stewards. They stripped Dancer's Image of his Derby victory on grounds of a urinalysis taken after the Derby that showed traces of Phenylbutazone.

The medication is used to counter inflammation of joints and is not prohibited in Kentucky if it is discontinued long enough before a race so that its presence cannot be detected chemically.

Titanic OSU-Michigan Tilt Set, With Roses For Winner

By HAL PARIS

Associated Press Sports Writer COLUMBUS, Ohio, (AP) — Woody Hayes isn't talking much about Michigan these days. But everyone knows what the Ohio State football coach is thinking.

The Buckeyes and the Wolverines clash in Ohio Stadium Saturday in a showdown match that will decide the Big Ten championship and the opponent for Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

The veteran Wolverines of Coach Bump Elliott have disposed of eight straight foes after a season-opening loss to California. Hayes' sophomore-student club has whipped all eight opponents and boasts a 12-game winning string, second longest in the nation.

Both are 6-0 in the conference and a Buckeye victory or a tie will climax Ohio's first unbeaten campaign since 1954. Michigan must win to make the Pasadena journey since it played in the Rose Bowl more recently than the Bucks.

The setting is similar to the 1964 windup when Michigan came into Columbus with a 5-1 league record and Ohio was 5-0. When the smoke cleared, the Wolverines prevailed 10-0 in the winner-take-all duel.

Hayes knows who the opponent is Saturday but he didn't mention Michigan by name at his Monday luncheon.

"Sark (assistant coach Esco Sarkkinen) can tell you more about our opponent this week than I can," he said.

The dean of Big Ten coaches reported that all hands were expected to be ready Saturday. John Brockington, the power-running tailback, is nursing an ankle injury and end Jan White has a muscle pull in his back.

The Ohio Stadium ground crew was busy installing extra seats which would assure a record crowd of 85,000-plus.

The struggle could shape up as a match between record-buster Ron Johnson of Michigan and Ohio's young but stout defensive unit.

Johnson smashed a national rushing record with 347 yards against Wisconsin Saturday, and shattered a long list of school marks.

"Johnson has good size, speed, agility and balance," Sarkkinen noted. "But his extraordinary physique gives him the ability to shake off tacklers. He cuts well and picks up his blockers impressively."

The Buckeye scout also singled out quarterback Dennis Brown, tight end Jim Mandich, safetyman Tom Curtis and defensive back George Hoey.

"Brown has the ability to make the big play. He runs well and is adept at passing. Curtis leads the secondary with nine league interceptions. Mandich is Michigan's best receiver with 36 catches for 496 yards and three touchdowns. Hoey is an outstanding punt return specialist.

Sark said Michigan's well-balanced defense has made a lot of opportunities for the offense with 24 interceptions and 11 fumble recoveries.

Logan Elm Opens Cage Season At Carroll Thursday

Logan Elm is the first of the area basketball teams to begin action this year.

The Braves travel to Carroll Thursday. The game was scheduled Thursday because of a weekend conflict with other school activities there.

LE Coach Chuck Pritchard has named his starting lineup for Thursday's opener.

Dennis Karshner, a 6-3 senior, will be the Braves' center. Dan Cooper, 5-7 junior guard, will return to one of the back court posts while Rodney Riddle will be starting at the other. Riddle is a 5-11 junior.

THE forwards will be Dan Cooper, 5-11, a senior letterman, and Dan Ankrom, 5-11, up from the reserve squad.

The number one replacement will be Jeff Jones, a 5-10 forward-guard.

The Braves have already been hampered by injuries. D. J. Humphrey, who was making a serious bid for a starting guard position, has a pulled Achilles tendon in his ankle.

It will be some time before he is ready for action, Pritchard reports. Also hurt is Steve Swank, who has suffered a groin pull. He is not expected to play Thursday.

Rounding out the squad are Dale Hartley, a forward and K. C. Jones, guard, who Pritchard hopes will provide good depth at their respective positions.

Bob McAfee and Steve Bower. All but three of the cagers are off of last year's reserve team.

WE'LL have to stress defense this year," says Pritchard. He hopes to get a good scoring punch from Fausnaugh, one of the better shooters on the team, and from Karshner and Cooper.

Ankrom, who Pritchard says is a "real scrapper", could give the Braves a big assist on the boards.

Pritchard will be going against Carroll not knowing a thing about the team.

"They were real good last year. And if they have two or three of those boys back they will be a good team."

Here is Logan Elm's schedule:
Nov. 21 at Carroll
Nov. 30 at St. Aloisius

Dec. 13 at Huntington
Dec. 14 at The Plains

Most Bowl Berths Quickly Filled

By MIKE BRYSON

Associated Press Sports Writer Under an NCAA rule, Monday was the first official day bowl sponsors could issue invitations—and berths for the Orange, Sugar, Cotton, Gator, Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls were filled in rapid-fire order. Unbeaten Penn State and once-beaten Kansas, both boasting crunching ground attacks, were paired in Miami's nighttime Orange Bowl, while the Cotton and Sugar bowls lined up matches between the top two rowers in the Southeastern and Southwest conferences.

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas picked eighth-ranked Tennessee to meet the undetermined champion of the Southwest Conference, either Texas or Arkansas.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans pulled a coup and lured Southeastern Conference champ Georgia from the Orange Bowl.

Officials said they wouldn't name a foe until after Thanksgiving Day, indicating they were awaiting the outcome of Texas' last game against Texas A&M, which will determine the final Southwest standings.

Saltcreek Jr. High Beats Laurelville

Saltcreek Twp. Junior High School defeated Laurelville Junior High, 39-26.

Tim Justice scored 19 points to pace the winners. Jack Randle scored eight points and Brent Luckhart notched six.

Other scorers for the Warriors were Brad Luckhart with two and Jim Bigam with four points. It was a close game for three quarters, with the Wildcats pulling within three points in the third period.

It was in the fourth quarter that the Warriors extended their lead. It was the second win for Saltcreek. Coach Doyle Wiggins said it was a tremendous team effort.

Lou Newland led Laurelville with 12 points. Grunden tallied seven for the losers.

Dayton Gets Assurances On PGA Tilt

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The two warring factions representing professional golfers guaranteed Monday that they will not let their differences threaten the success of next summer's Professional Golfers Association championship tournament.

A spokesman for the American Professional Golfers in New York dismissed the possibility of a boycott of the tourney by APG members. "We never had that intention in mind," he said.

"The PGA championship will be played in 1969," said PGA President Leo Fraser following a meeting here with officials of the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsor of the tournament, and the tournament committee.

Fraser said the players have indicated publicly that they would be in the tournament because the contract for the event was effected before formation of the APG.

Virtually all the well-known touring pros are included in the APG membership.

The Dayton Chamber of Commerce had threatened to cancel the championship tourney—one of the big three on the U.S. tour—unless the APG and PGA would guarantee a top field of players here for the Aug. 14-17 event at the National Cash Register Country Club.

If Arkansas should beat Texas Tech this week and Texas stops the Aggies, then Texas would get the bid since the Longhorns whipped Arkansas during the regular season.

Arkansas will get the nod if it wins and Texas loses, and if both leaders lose it will throw the race into confusion, producing a broad range of alternatives.

Top-ranked Southern California, 8-0, already has clinched a trip to the granddaddy of the New Year's classics—the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.—by winning the Pacific 8 title.

Ohio State-Michigan Game To Be Aired

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Saturday's Ohio State-Michigan showdown for the Big Ten football title will be seen on television—but only in a 45-mile radius of Columbus.

The game, not being televised nationally, will be carried by WOSU-TV, Channel 34 in Columbus, the Ohio State University educational television station.

The Trojans will face the Big Ten champion—to be decided in a big showdown this weekend between second-ranked and unbeaten Ohio State and No. 4 and once-beaten Michigan.

Oklahoma, 5-3, which still has an outside chance of sharing the Big Eight title, and Southern Methodist, 6-3, were matched in the Bluebonnet Bowl to be played New Year's Eve in the Houston Astrodome.

Missouri, 7-2, accepted an invitation to the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 28 against a foe to be named in a few days. Alabama, 7-2, is considered the likely choice for the other berth, although Wyoming, Florida State and Arizona State also are under consideration.

Auburn, 6-3, was picked to play in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 28. An opponent from a field including Nebraska, Air Force, Wyoming, Arizona, and Arizona State will be named soon.

Sponsors of the Liberty Bowl have temporarily put off selecting teams for the Dec. 14 game at Memphis, Tenn. The top candidates are Louisiana State, 6-3, Mississippi, 6-3, and Florida State, 6-2.

Southern Cal Holds Top Rating In Polls

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer Southern California's come-from-behind victory over Oregon State in last Saturday's Pacific Coast showdown has bolstered the top-ranked Trojans' bid for the national college football championship.

The unbeaten Trojans, who nailed the host spot in the Rose Bowl by trimming Oregon State

17-13 with a second half comeback, received 27 of 37 votes cast today in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Ohio State, which downed Iowa 33-27 to match Southern Cal's 8-0 record, held the runner-up spot, picking up seven first place ballots, but slipped farther behind the Trojans in points, 704-636. The leaders had a 44-point margin over the Buckeyes last week.

Penn State, 8-0, Michigan, 8-1, and Georgia, 7-0-2, remained third, fourth and fifth, with the Nittany Lions receiving two firsts and the Bulldogs one following impressive triumphs. Penn State trampled Maryland 57-13 and Georgia stopped Auburn 17-3.

Michigan, which meets Ohio State Saturday for the Big Ten Conference championship, whipped Wisconsin 34-9.

Texas, 7-1-1 following a 47-21 romp over Texas Christian, jumped from eighth to sixth place while Missouri, No. 6 before bowing to Oklahoma 28-14, fell to 13th.

Kansas held the No. 7 spot, with Tennessee moving up from 11th to eighth, Arkansas climbing one notch to ninth and Notre Dame, No. 9 a week ago, slipping to No. 10. The Jayhawks topped Kansas State 38-29, Tennessee mauled Mississippi 31-0, Arkansas outscored Southern Methodist 35-29 and the Irish flattened Georgia Tech 34-6. Houston claimed the 11th spot following a 77-3 rout of Idaho. Purdue, Missouri, Oklahoma, Alabama, Oregon State, Ohio University, California, Auburn and Wyoming completed the Top Twenty.

Bobby Hull Leads NHL Scoring Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull's 22nd career hat trick has helped the Chicago superstar open up an eight-point lead over St. Louis' Red Berenson and Detroit's Gordie Howe in the National Hockey League scoring race.

Hull banged in three goals against Pittsburgh last Thursday night, moving within four hat tricks of Maurice Richard's all-time NHL mark, and finished the week with league-leading totals of 14 goals and 32 points.

Circleville's Run And Shoot Offense Faces Tall Timber

Circleville's new look in basketball this year will be run and shoot.

Under new coach Garold Sowders, the Tigers promise to be an exciting team to watch, but they will be facing some tall timber in the South Central Ohio League.

Wilmington, picked by this corner and by most of the league's cage observers as the team most likely to win the title, has a front line that will average 6-feet 4-inches.

Miami Trace, last year's titleholder and a team that will finish in the top half of the standings, has 6-6 Jack Waddle at center.

WASHINGTON C. H. will be able to field a starting five that will average 6-3. Hillsboro, an explosive squad last year, has All-SCO league guard Mike Moses, who averaged over 21 points a game last year back along with 6-2 Richard Beatty

Up from the reserves is 6-4 Ken Zimmerman.

Only Greenfield will not boast much of a height advantage over Circleville. The McClain Tigers lost all of the starting five. Only two lettermen return. They are Ron Coleman, 6-1 forward, and Tom Kellis, 5-9 guard. The tallest cager on the Greenfield squad is Larry Griffith, a 6-2 sophomore.

When Circleville takes to the floor against Chillicothe for the season's first basketball game Saturday, not one player on the starting five will surpass the six foot mark.

Junior Ty Ankrum will be starting at center. He is a six-footer. Dave Horst has nailed down one forward position, while Dave Hopkins and Charlie Jackson are battling for the other front court spot.

Right now Billy Thomas and Randy Haley are the guards. Horst and Hopkins are the only seniors on the first six.

Haley, a transfer student from Vinton County, is expected to add a dimension to the Tiger scoring punch that Circleville has not had recently.

An excellent shot from anywhere on the floor, he is quick and almost impossible to stop one on one according to coach Sowders.

Here's a look at the rest of the league:

Size and experience should propel Wilmington to the league title.

Coached by Fred Summers, the Hurricane has 6-5 Kim Ewing at one forward, 6-4 Doug Gordley at center and 6-3 Gary Garman at the other forward. In the back court, Summers has two veterans in Chuck Buster and Kenny Williams. All of the starting five are lettermen.

Miami Trace lost two fine forwards in Phil Bihl and Eddie Summers, and an outstanding guard in Bob Thornberry.

HOWEVER, coach Delmar Mowery has big Jack Waddle, 6-6 back at center. He has two outstanding guards in Chuck Weaver, 6-0, and Larry Ankrum, 5-8 and a host of capable cagers to back this duo up.

If Mowery can fill the gap at forward he will have a real contender.

Defense is the name of the game at Washington C. H. where Gary Shafer has taken over the coaching reins.

Shafer has a 6-6 center in Herby Sollars, Bucky Burge, a 6-3 cornerman; 6-2 Lowell Harper, one of the top rebounders on the team last year; 6-3 Steve Phillips and 6-2 Steve Bowers. The latter two are juniors. As sophomore guards playing varsity ball last year, they provided a good scoring threat for the team.

Hillsboro, with four lettermen returning including Moses should be improved over last year's squad. Vernon Hooper is back as head coach. In addition to Moses and Beatty, Hooper has Wayne Strain and Doug Trout returning.

Up from the reserves are Zimmerman, Dan Reed, Tom Barton, Paul Pence, Steve Kelley, Jack Monte DeOca and Rick Pierce. Hooper favors a fast paced game and he has the guards to make the Indians a real threat.

It will be a rebuilding season for Coach Paul Hager at Greenfield with such fine cagers as Steve Sieg, Rick Smith, and Bob Bristley gone.

In addition to his two returning lettermen of Coleman and Kellis, Hager has six juniors and six sophomores on the squad.

The overall picture in the league is for improved teams. With the exception of Greenfield, and possibly Miami Trace, every coach is anticipating better squads.

The battle for first is between Wilmington and Miami Trace. The middle of the league could develop into a real dog fight, while Greenfield could slide well down the ladder in the standings.

Here is the complete SCO League schedule:

Nov. 22 — Miami Trace at Bishop Ready.

Nov. 23 — Madison South at Washington C. H.; Wilmington at Xenia Central; Hillsboro at Fairfield; Chillicothe at Circleville; Greenfield vs Portsmouth at Wilmington College.

Nov. 27 — Lebanon at Hillsboro; Fairmont West at Wilmington.

No. 29 — Washington C. H. at Cedarville; Westfall at Circleville; Greenfield at Upper Arlington.

Nov. 30 — Wilmington at Cincinnati Moeller; Clinton Massie at Hillsboro.

Dec. 6 — Washington C. H. at Miami Trace; Circleville at Greenfield; Wilmington at Hillsboro.

Dec. 7 — East Clinton at Washington C. H.; Circleville at Grandview; Miami Trace at Chillicothe; Greenfield at Bexley.

Dec. 13 — Circleville at Washington C. H.; Hillsboro at Miami Trace; Greenfield at Wilmington.

Set Rules In Horse Drug Hearing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Racing Commission promised to issue a set of guidelines today concerning testimony that can be considered at its current hearing on the disqualification of Dancer's Image.

At issue are a series of mysterious post-Derby incidents during which an attempt was made "to salt" the feed and oaths of Peter Fuller's colt.

The issue was raised by one of Fuller's attorneys, Arthur Graf-ton, who said that if such testimony was submitted "it would open up a wide field of speculation."

Counsel for the racing commission contends these incidents are closely tied to the current proceedings.

The commission, which opened its hearing Monday, is considering Fuller's appeal of a May 15 ruling by Churchill Downs stewards. They stripped Dancer's Image of his Derby victory on grounds of a urinalysis taken after the Derby that showed traces of Phenylbutazone.

The medication is used to counter inflammation of joints and is not prohibited in Kentucky if it is discontinued long enough before a race so that its presence cannot be detected chemically.

Titanic OSU-Michigan Tilt Set, With Roses For Winner

By HAL PARIS

Associated Press Sports Writer COLUMBUS, Ohio, (AP) — Woody Hayes isn't talking much about Michigan these days. But everyone knows what the Ohio State football coach is thinking.

The Buckeyes and the Wolverines clash in Ohio Stadium Saturday in a showdown match that will decide the Big Ten championship and the opponent for Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

The veteran Wolverines of Coach Bump Elliott have disposed of eight straight foes after a season-opening loss to California. Hayes' sophomore-studded club has whipped all eight opponents and boasts a 12-game winning string, second longest in the nation.

Both are 6-0 in the conference and a Buckeye victory or a tie will climax Ohio's first unbeaten campaign since 1954. Michigan must win to make the Pasadena journey since it played in the Rose Bowl more recently than the Bucks.

The setting is similar to the 1964 windup when Michigan came into Columbus with a 5-1 league record and Ohio was 5-0. When the smoke cleared, the Wolves prevailed 10-0 in the winner-take-all duel.

Hayes knows who the oppenent is Saturday but he didn't mention Michigan by name at his Monday luncheon.

"Sark (assistant coach Esco Sarkkinen) can tell you more about our opponent this week than I can," he said.

The dean of Big Ten coaches reported that all hands were expected to be ready Saturday. John Brockington, the power-running tailback, is nursing an ankle injury and end Jan White has a muscle pull in his back. The Ohio Stadium ground crew was busy installing extra seats which would assure a record crowd of 85,000-plus.

The struggle could shape up as a match between record-buster Ron Johnson of Michigan and Ohio's young but stout defensive unit.

Johnson smashed a national rushing record with 347 yards against Wisconsin Saturday, and shattered a long list of school marks.

"Johnson has good size, speed, agility and balance," Sarkkinen noted. "But his extraordinary physique gives him the ability to shake off tacklers. He cuts well and picks up his blockers impressively."

The Buckeye scout also singled out quarterback Dennis Brown, tight end Jim Mandich, safetyman Tom Curtis and defensive back George Hoey.

"Brown has the ability to make the big play. He runs well and is adept at passing. Curtis leads the secondary with nine league interceptions. Mandich is Michigan's best receiver with 36 catches for 496 yards and three touchdowns. Hoey is an outstanding punt return specialist.

Sark said Michigan's well-balanced defense has made a lot of opportunities for the offense with 24 interceptions and 11 fumble recoveries.

Colonels Defeat Miami, 120-119

Thanks to a 53-point outburst by Darel Carrier and a late rally that didn't quite come off, surging Kentucky has whittled Minnesota's lead to 1½ games in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Carrier turned in the league's highest production this season in powering the Colonels to a 120-119 conquest of Miami Monday night.

Houston turned back New Orleans 99-88 in the night's only other game. All of the National Basketball Association teams were idle.

Logan Elm Opens Cage Season At Carroll Thursday

Logan Elm is the first of the area basketball teams to begin action this year.

The Braves travel to Carroll Thursday. The game was scheduled Thursday because of a weekend conflict with other school activities there.

LE Coach Chuck Pritchard has named his starting lineup for Thursday's opener.

Dennis Karshner, a 6-3 senior, will be the Braves' center. Dan Cooper, 5-7 junior guard, will return to one of the back court posts while Rodney Riddle will be starting at the other. Riddle is a 5-11 junior.

THE forwards will be Dan Cooper, 5-11, a senior letterman, and Dan Ankrum, 5-11, up from the reserve squad.

The number one replacement will be Jeff Jones, a 5-10 forward-guard.

The Braves have already been hampered by injuries. D. J. Humphrey, who was making a serious bid for a starting guard position, has a pulled achilles tendon in his ankle.

It will be some time before he is ready for action, Pritchard reports. Also hurt is Steve Swank, who has suffered a groin pull. He is not expected to play Thursday.

Rounding out the squad are Dale Hartley, a forward and K. C. Jones, guard, who Pritchard hopes will provide good depth at their respective positions,

Bob McAfee and Steve Bower. All but three of the cagers are off of last year's reserve team.

WE'LL have to stress defense this year," says Pritchard. He hopes to get a good scoring punch from Fausnaugh, one of the better shooters on the team, and from Karshner and Cooper.

Ankrum, who Pritchard says is a "real scrapper", could give the Braves a big assist on the boards.

Pritchard will be going against Carroll not knowing a thing about the team.

"They were real good last year. And if they have two or three of those boys back they will be a good team."

Here is Logan Elm's schedule:

Most Bowl Berths Quickly Filled

By MIKE BRYSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Under an NCAA rule, Monday was the first official day bowl sponsors could issue invitations—and berths for the Orange, Sugar, Cotton, Gator, Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls were filled in rapid-fire order. Unbeaten Penn State and once-beaten Kansas, both boasting crunching ground attacks, were paired in Miami's nighttime Orange Bowl, while the Cotton and Sugar bowls lined up matches between the top two powers in the Southeastern and Southwest conferences.

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas picked eighth-ranked Tennessee to meet the undetermined champion of the Southwest Conference, either Texas or Arkansas.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans pulled a coup and lured Southeastern Conference champ Georgia from the Orange Bowl.

Officials said they wouldn't name a foe until after Thanksgiving Day, indicating they were awaiting the outcome of Texas' last game against Texas A&M, which will determine the final Southwest standings.

Dayton Gets Assurances On PGA Tilt

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The two warring factions representing professional golfers guaranteed Monday that they will not let their differences threaten the success of next summer's Professional Golfers Association championship tournament.

A spokesman for the American Professional Golfers in New York dismissed the possibility of a boycott of the tourney by APG members. "We never had that intention in mind," he said.

"The PGA championship will be played in 1969," said PGA President Leo Fraser following a meeting here with officials of the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsor of the tournament, and the tournament committee.

Fraser said the players have indicated publicly that they would be in the tournament because the contract for the event was effected before formation of the APG.

Virtually all the well-known touring pros are included in the APG membership.

The Dayton Chamber of Commerce had threatened to cancel the championship tourney—one of the big three on the U.S. tour—unless the APG and PGA would guarantee a top field of players here for the Aug. 14-17 event at the National Cash Register Country Club.

Saltcreek Jr. High Beats Laurelville

Saltcreek Twp. Junior High School defeated Laurelville Junior High, 39-26.

Tim Justice scored 19 points to pace the winners. Jack Randle scored eight points and Brent Luckhart notched six.

Other scorers for the Warriors were Brad Luckhart with two and Jim Bigam with four points. It was a close game for three quarters, with the Wildcats pulling within three points in the third period.

It was in the fourth quarter that the Warriors extended their lead. It was the second win for Saltcreek. Coach Doyle Wiggins said it was a tremendous team effort.

Lou Newland led Laurelville with 12 points. Grunden tallied seven for the losers.

Southern Cal Holds Top Rating In Polls

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California's come-from-behind victory over Oregon State in last Saturday's Pacific Coast showdown has bolstered the top-ranked Trojans' bid for the national college football championship.

The unbeaten Trojans, who nailed the host spot in the Rose Bowl by trimming Oregon State

17-13 with a second half comeback, received 27 of 37 votes cast today in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Ohio State, which downed Iowa 33-27 to match Southern Cal's 8-0 record, held the runner-up spot, picking up seven first place ballots, but slipped farther behind the Trojans in points, 704-636. The leaders had a 44-point margin over the Buckeyes last week.

Penn State, 8-0, Michigan, 8-1, and Georgia, 7-0-2, remained third, fourth and fifth, with the Nittany Lions receiving two firsts and the Bulldogs one following impressive triumphs. Penn State trampled Maryland 57-13 and Georgia stopped Auburn 17-3.

Michigan, which meets Ohio State Saturday for the Big Ten Conference championship, whipped Wisconsin 34-9.

Texas, 7-1-1 following a 47-21 romp over Texas Christian, jumped from eighth to sixth place while Missouri, No. 6 before bowing to Oklahoma 28-14, fell to 13th.

Kansas held the No. 7 spot, with Tennessee moving up from 11th to eighth, Arkansas climbing one notch to ninth and Notre Dame, No. 9 a week ago, slipping to No. 10. The Jayhawks topped Kansas State 38-29, Tennessee mauled Mississippi 31-0, Arkansas outscored Southern Methodist 35-29 and the Irish flattened Georgia Tech 34-6. Houston claimed the 11th spot following a 77-3 rout of Idaho. Purdue, Missouri, Oklahoma, Alabama, Oregon State, Ohio University, California, Auburn and Wyoming completed the Top Twenty.

The Top 20, with first-place votes, records and total points. Points awarded for first 15 picks on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-8-etc.

Professional Track League Proposed By Californians

By MIKE RECHT
If two young law school graduates from California have their way, track stars will start running for money next year in track and field's first professional league.

Plans for a 30-meet, three-month season starting next June and including many U.S. Olympic stars and foreign athletes, who will compete for $4 million in prize money, were disclosed Monday night by league organizers Jerry Sherman and Mike Heaman, both of Sherman Oaks, Calif.

The 29-year-old idea men said they have interested numerous wealthy businessmen throughout the country in the proposed league, which they also hope will attract athletes from other sports.

"We hope to use the National Collegiate Athletic Association as our farm system," said Heaman. "And we're not out to kill the AAU or the Olympics. Athletes still can compete in the Olympics while in college.

"But this association will be set up for the benefit of the track athlete, and that's something that's been long overdue."

"We already have option agreements from about 50 athletes," said Jerry Sherman, "and that includes about 15 members of the U.S. Olympic team." Some of them, he said, are half milers Wade Bell and Tom Farrell, high jumper Ed Caruthers, long jumper Bob Beamon and Charlie Mays and sprinter Mel Pender.

They also mentioned Jesse Owens, U.S. star at the 1936 Olympics, as a possible commissioner of the league, to be called the National Track and Field Association.

Cities listed for possible franchises were New York, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cleveland for an Eastern Division, and Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Portland, Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston for a Western Division.

Their plans call for athletes to be signed to one-year contracts at $10,000, with the opportunity to win as much as $90,000 in prize money.

A 10-week season would run through August with an all-star meet during the season and a postseason title series between the two divisions.

20 YEARS OF PROGRESS

at General Electric

General Electric is proudly observing its 20th anniversary in Circleville this month. It was 20 years ago in November, 1948 that General Electric began manufacturing lamps in Circleville.

During those 20 years, General Electric and the Circleville community have shared in the progress achieved here.

On its 20th birthday, Circleville Lamp Plant has a lot to be proud of:

People: We're particularly proud of the fine group of employees which make up our production team. They take pride in their work and in the products they produce. Many of them have built their lifetime careers with General Electric here in Circleville. And through good G.E. jobs, our employees have the opportunity for financial security and all the other elements to grow and develop as individuals along with the community.

Products: A varied line of fluorescent lamps is manufactured at Circleville Lamp. Our products represent the finest values in manufacturing know-how, engineering development, and rigid high-quality standards. We believe our products represent a truly good value for consumers at a competitive price.

Progress: We also point with pride to our 20 years of progress as a part of this community. We're glad we found a home here — and glad, too, to have shared in these growing years with other industrial firms which have located in Circleville. Our large expansions in 1958 and 1966 demonstrate the faith of the General Electric Company in the future of Circleville.

Progress in building greater value into our products is the key-stone for a successful business in Circleville, as it is elsewhere. This progress is shared by many — bringing with it better jobs for our employees, better products for our customers, steady returns for our share owners, and the satisfaction for this community of having a responsible, progressive corporate neighbor.

Behind the General Electric monogram are men and women — your neighbors and fellow citizens — who are making important contributions to this community and to the growth of their Company. General Electric is looking forward to continuing growth and progress as an employer and community neighbor.
